FILTREX™ Europe highlights the bright future of nonwoven λlter media

16 May 2019

The 2019 FILTREX™ conference attracted key players from 48 different companies, with a focus on mobility, innovation in λlter media and in media design, media converting technology and modelling and testing methods.

EDANA closed the 2019 FILTREX™ conference with thanks and satisfaction. "Perfect organisation, good quality presentations and long breaks to allow qualitative networking" highlighted Carsten Bräuer from TWE (Germany).

Organised in Berlin on 14-15 May 2019, delegates had the opportunity to hear leading spokespersons for the industry discuss the future of λltration for vehicles in the age of e-mobility, new developments in nonwoven media, media design and λlter converting, as well as modelling and testing for the high performance requirements increasingly expected by the market
