

2019 Nonwovens Symposium outlines path to sustainable innovation and growth

13 June 2019

EDANA closed its 2019 International Nonwovens Symposium (INS) today, having further demonstrated the technical and strategic building blocks that will ensure the industry's sustainable growth. Launch of latest industry sustainability vision and report mirrors focus.

Launch of latest industry sustainability vision and report mirrors focus

EDANA closed its 2019 International Nonwovens Symposium (INS) today, having further demonstrated the technical and strategic building blocks that will ensure the industry's sustainable growth.

