

The Single-use Plastics Directive: what next, and when?

30 March 2021

In the run up to OUTLOOK™ 2021 Gil Stevens, EDANA's External Relations & Sustainability Director, spoke with Haydn Davis of Sustainable Nonwovens, providing a preview of the suite of new online facilities which will enable participants to truly capitalise on attendance.

They pair also discussed the presentation Gil will give on the morning of April 22nd, on the Single-use Plastics directive, outlining the changes in store for producers and the wider implications for the industry. A number of key questions remain for producers, including the very definition of a plastic, the timeline for labelling implementation, and language requirements in individual member states.

All details about OUTLOOK can be found here: <https://www.edana.org/events/outlook/outlook-2021>

