

Sustainability Steering Group

Role and Responsibilities

(May 2020)

What is the Sustainability Steering Group?

Consisting of senior representatives of EDANA member companies with experience in sustainability, the Sustainability Steering Group develops EDANA's sustainability strategy and ensures its implementation through different Working Groups.

Responsibilities

- Proposes changes to the EDANA Sustainability Vision, for EDANA board validation
- Aligns EDANA's sustainability initiatives with the EDANA Sustainability Vision
- Proposes an annual plan for the Working Groups
- Reviews and monitors progress of the Working Groups projects
- Proposes or confirms a new Working Group, including its targets and priorities
- Proposes or confirms a change in status of a Working Group
- Ensures Working Group projects or activities have adequate resources and staffing
- Aligns the sustainability activities with the needs of other EDANA groups, in the first place with the Communication and Advocacy Steering Group.

Who should attend?

Every EDANA member company with an interest in sustainability can appoint one or more representatives to participate in this Steering Group. Participation in a group is subject to the EDANA guidelines.

Reporting Groups

The Sustainability Steering Group is responsible for the following Working Groups:

- Circular Economy for personal and healthcare Working Group
- Sustainability for personal and healthcare Working Group
- Sustainability for nonwoven durable applications Working Group

Coordination with other EDANA Groups

The Steering Group reports to the EDANA Board. It will furthermore closely align with the Communication and Advocacy SG and other EDANA Steering Groups.
